the hiring used to be. The two auto loads of brokers were for a trip to the Nakamun company's well to see for themselves the progress being made and the indications of the fields' becoming a large producer of oil. In one of the cars was Frank McQueen, president of the Capital City stock exchange, who was accompanied by a number of brokers, while in the other was Prof. Hall and others. They expect to be back in the city this evening.

The very favorable indications encountered at the well of the United Oils in the Calgary-Okotoks field has resulted in stiffer prices for some of the oil properties in the area adjacent to those of the United or likely to be affected should a strike be made at that well, which has been for some time past been looked upon as the one which is probable to be "brought in."

The rush to incorporate oil companies still continues, and one man, George Amos, has been in the city arrived in this city this morning with this purpose in view. But Amos is not well acquainted with the city and some of his neighboring farmers are not willing to let him come in to apply for an oil license, as he called it, was at the police station, and he very appeared there this morning with that intent, went up to the sergeant's desk and told him, "I had told you on the counter before him, and asked for an 'oil license.' He was not obliged of course, but was directed to the city hall, where the buildings are, and he told him that it was stated to him he would be able to have his wish granted and his Amos Oil Co., was incorporated, but at a considerable cost."

Amos stated that he owns a $20 Rev. Farm seventeen miles out from the station and believes like others that his land has the oil is fairly saturated with it.

Fighting Dogs Cause Death.
Marmora, Ont., July 16—An accident occurred in Marmora by which Bernard O'Brien lost his life. He was carrying a rifle and upon two dogs beginning to fight, took hold of the barrel of the gun and struck the dogs with the butt. The rifle was discharged, the bullet entering his body.

When the crop came in from the south this morning, the farmers were beginning to find out the value of the earth's crust in this most prolific part of the world.

"We are now beginning to find out what we really are going to lose. And they can talk as they like, but it is a name with magic in it. It is the name of the millions of multitudes, and your Alberta fields are coming to the front just at the critical time in the world's industrial history, and the people are going to be everybody's talking point. It is especially an important time for the British empire, as the imperial nations are all depending on the wheat of the untold millions to spend not in buying oil, but in simply procuring for it."

Indeed, if the people of Edmonton realize that the wheat of the prairie should be an optimistic lot. Who knows that they do not at this moment have the most important determining factor in the industrial future of not only Canada, but the whole British empire?

"CLAIMS ACTUATED BY HIGHEST PATRIOTISM"

General Villa Regrets He Did

"the Traitor."

Mexico City, July 16.—General Venustiano Huerta resigned the provisional presidency of the Mexican Republic last evening, and his resignation was accepted by the senate and chamber of deputies by a vote of 121 to 17. An official statement said the resignation was actuated by the highest motives of patriotism, and in accordance with a supreme duty of Huerta to his country.

Francisco Carranza was then appointed president, and took the oath of office in the joint session of deputies and senators. Huerta's resignation was submitted through the department of foreign relations. It was read in the house and greeted with cries of "Viva Huerta." It was then referred to the joint committees. After brief consideration the committee reported, accepting the resignation, in the following terms:

"Article 1.—We accept the resignation presented by General Venustiano Huerta as president of the Mexican Republic."

"Article 2.—We call Licenciado Francisco Carranza, minister of foreign relations, to assume the presidency."

A ballot was taken, and the joint session approved the report.

President Carranza proceeded to the National Palace under an escort of presidential guards, and all along the way was greeted with tumultuous cheering.

All the members of the Huerta cabinet have also tendered their resignations.

General Villa's Comment

Interex, Mex., July 16.—"I would much prefer that Huerta had remained in the presidential chair in Mexico City, until we could get our hands on him," General Villa said yesterday in Juarez when he learned of Huerta's resignation.

"That is the only comment I care to make on the subject," he added. "I am a soldier of my country, and do not care to express my opinion of the traitor's resignation."

Washington, July 16.—Rear Admiral Hager reported to the navy department last night that reports reaching Vera Cruz said General Huerta and General Carranza would leave Mexico City by train tomorrow night. There was no mention of destination, but officials here think the retired dictator will go to Europe.

News of General Huerta's resignation, a provisional president of Mexico was hailed by official Washington as the first practical step toward a quick solution of the Mexican problem.

Constitutionalists, diplomats and officials of the United States government, did not conceal their satisfaction over the fact that General Huerta at last had voluntarily abandoned himself from the situation, and pointed the way to peace in his country.

The new administration will only hold office, it is thought, until arrangements are made for the exit of Carranza.

Federal Attack Potomac

Columbus, N. M., July 16.—The anti-bulldozing yesterday of the constitutionalist position at Potomac, California, by federal regulars, broke the peace of Northern Mexico and revived reports of counter-revolutionaries in the republic. Three hundred guerrillas under General Gomez attacked the little border town of Potomac, the United States army patrol. Every man of the village was killed, it is reported.

Thirty men under Captain Torante fought desperately from adobe houses in the town, but all were overpowered within a few minutes, except seven men who kept up a fire for several hours later. It was believed these seven were executed.

Gomez announced today that he would leave during the night and it is believed he will go to Europe.

Minority Vote for Roblin Government

Winnipeg, Man., July 16.—Final figures of the recent Manitoba provincial elections are not yet available owing to the incomplete returns from a few constituencies, but the popular vote according to the compilation of the Free Press is as follows: 45 constituencies being represented:

Opposition candidates	66,882
Government candidates	64,271
Eight third candidates	7,148

Total 138,301

F. J. Dixon's vote whose majority in Centre Winnipeg "B" was the largest in the province, is included in the Liberal total. In 1910 the Roblin government polled 50.77 per cent. of the total vote, the Liberals 47.58 per cent. and the Socialists, 1.65 per cent.

The relative figures for 1914 are: Roblin government, 46.47 per cent., Liberals, 48.36 per cent., for the Independents, Socialists and Labor candidates, 5.17 per cent.

Revolutions Fared

Albuquerque, N. M., July 16.—Jose Ynez Salazar, former Mexican volunteer federal general, has been lodged in the guard-house at Fort Whipple pending investigation of a report that he and General Quevedo were furthering a plot to start a revolution in northern Mexico against the Constitutionalists. This information was brought here by Alfredo Barea, attorney for Salazar, who returned from Fort Wingate today.

Populace Is Calm

Mexico City, July 16.—The change in government, whereby General Venustiano Huerta turned over the provisional presidency to Francisco Carranza, has been calmly received by the populace. Beside the demonstration made in honor of President Carranza when he was leaving the chamber of deputies building after taking the oath, no other outbreaks of importance have occurred. There were a few shouts in the streets of "Down With Huerta" and "Viva Carranza," but the police promptly intervened, stopping all such demonstrations. General Huerta, who remained in the city several hours after his resignation is in flight, probably on his way to Puerto Mexico, to join his family and friends who left for that port a day earlier. General Huerta, his minister of war went with him when he left the city late last night, as did several members of his cabinet. Before leaving, General Huerta went to the national palace where he congratulated Carranza, who replied that he would do all in his power for the country's benefit. Later Carranza conferred with the different departments, all the members of the Huerta cabinet having resigned. A new cabinet is expected to be named during the day. The Huerta cabinet has arranged to make a formal call on the new president Friday.

A significant incident in connection with the change of government was the announcement that a special committee had left the capital last night for Cayula to arrange with the constitutionalist leaders for a peaceful entry into the capital.

A feature of the discussion in the chamber while the resignation of General Huerta was pending was the speech made by Deputy Miguel Blasco who made a bitter attack on Americans and American policies. He was booed by the public in the galleries.

All the newspapers issued extras on the day's events. El Pais which was suppressed by the Huerta government two months ago, reappeared last night.

Full Time Will be Given to Investigate Startling Story of Moosomin Man

Regina, July 16.—Austin Drenwick, a prisoner in the jail at Prince Albert, convicted of murder and sentenced to die, was yesterday granted a reprieve by Judge Brown in the district court in this city. The execution, which was to have taken place this morning, was postponed until August 13.

Drenwick was found guilty of the murder of a fellow employee in a construction camp near Prince Albert during the month of March. In the district court yesterday, Mr. Gregory, of Prince Albert, counsel for the condemned man, appeared before Judge Brown with evidence to prove that the man at present in jail at Moosomin had made a statement declaring that Drenwick was not guilty of the charge upon which he was convicted. The prisoner at Moosomin, though he refused to furnish further details, claimed he knew who was the guilty man.

In granting the reprieve Judge Brown admitted that sufficient time should be given to fully investigate this story.

WORKERS MAY NOT GIVE CONSENT TO GENERAL STRIKE

Thought That Disruption of Trade in B. C. May be Averted by Unionists.

LABOR LEADERS THINK MOVE IS ILL-ADVISED

Province Has About 400,000 Employees, and 75 Per Cent. Organized

Vancouver, July 16.—Though the consensus of opinion at the labor convention yesterday was in favor of having a general strike to bring more clearly before the people of British Columbia the conditions under which the miners in the coal mines are working and also, if possible, to bring about an end of the struggle, many local labor leaders think the suggested step is an ill-adviced one and it is within the bounds of probability that, when put squarely up to the men of the different trades there will be nothing like the vote in favor of it that is anticipated.

This strike, if put into effect, would affect practically all the organized labor associations. There would, of course, be a few exceptions, such as printers, but generally speaking, there will be a wholesale dislocation of business through its operation. It is difficult to give, with any degree of accuracy, the figures of the members in the various trades unions, but a rough estimate places the number at something like forty thousand workers, more or less.

Taking the population of the province at slightly under four hundred thousand, one-fourth of whom are workers, and reckoning that 25 per cent. of these are non-union and 25 per cent. of the union men are unemployed, this figure would be a close estimate. The labor leaders, cautions themselves state with accuracy to what extent their decision will go, but say that it might even exceed this number.

OLD TYPE ENGINE RESPONSIBLE FOR MARSHALL'S DEATH

Beams Were of Wood and Not Steel as in Later Models

TRAIN HAD 34 CARS—SMITH SAID ONLY TWO

Adjourned Till Tonight in Order Jury Might View Scene of Wreck.

The inquest into the death of George Marshall, the engineer who was killed on a C.N.R. train Monday night, was resumed last night in order to hear the conflicting evidence of Engineer E. R. Joyner of the switch engine to that already given Tuesday night and the evidence of the other train crew, and the vague idea the jury had of the train yards in connection with the case, it was deemed advisable by Coroner Foran, after but a small portion of evidence had been taken, to adjourn until tonight at 8 o'clock, in order that he, in company with his jury, might visit the scene of the wreck and see for themselves the layout of the tracks and thus understand more clearly any evidence given. The party then proceeded to 1411 Street, and for half an hour had explained to them by the yard master the facts relating to location of trains, and the layout of the tracks. They also viewed the wrecked engine and coal tender.

Referring to the scene of the accident, revealed more in a short space of time than several hours might have in taking evidence, for at least one point was clear, visible to all present, and that was that the engine on the Morinville train, and the one that suffered most damage, was of an old type, with huge wooden beams instead of the steel ones that are in use in the more modern engines, and because of this fact was the compact of the engine sufficient to break the front of No. 1249, and thus indirectly cause the death of the deceased, for the train, going at four miles an hour would not, it is believed, have broken the front beam had the beam been of steel instead of wood. The fact that not even the headlight or any upper part of the engine is damaged, but only the wooden beam, is cause to believe that therein lay the seriousness of the collision. More evidence along these lines will be brought out at the hearing tonight, for Wm. Yates, a car inspector of many years experience with the C.N.R., was interviewed last night and will appear at the inquest tonight and testify along the lines of the work of the engine, the front beam which was but of wood. Had this been been of steel as in use in later type engines, the accident would not likely have had such serious results.

Engineer Joyner, who was in the engine at the time of the accident, gave evidence as given by J. J. Smith Tuesday evening, in that there were two cars attached to his switch engine. Smith said that there were two and that he was directly behind the rear one when the collision occurred. He also stated that his train was made up of 34 cars, twenty of which were empty, and the rest loaded, that his brakes were not set at the time of the collision, and that when they struck, the compact coupling his train at the second car, caused the drop-bar to drop and sink in the ground and cause the train of the second car to lift up over the track. The mark on the tie clearly showed where the bar had struck. He stated also that when the cars became uncoupled, the balance of the cars, the other 32, ran back eastward on the track, for a short distance, this is contradictory to Smith's evidence, who stated that he had seen the train when some 30 yards north of it, and had been watching his chance to get across, and that there were but two cars. This point must be made clear tonight.

Engineer Joyner stated that he had been working on the train for two days and Monday night was his first night on that work. He had also worked two days on the train at Polaris, and he did not hear the train approaching nor hear it whistle, but he did hear the whistle when the engine struck. He did not know the Morinville train and every day. Some interesting evidence is expected to be brought out at tonight's hearing.

French and German Scribes Engaged in Acrimonious Personal Controversy, ARE VERY DESIROUS SHOOTING EACH OTHER

Second Decide Duel Should Not Take Place, but Principals Determined.

Paris, July 16.—An acrimonious controversy which is going on between Paul and Guy Cassagne, editors of the Revue and Le Figaro, respectively, of the Berlin Lokal Anzeiger, and Paul Lahn, correspondent of the Frankfurter, appears likely to cause diplomatic tension between France and Germany. Guy Cassagne recently challenged Paul to a duel, which the second decided need not take place, because Paul had nothing to personally, with an article which was the original cause of the controversy, approving a sentence of one year imprisonment imposed by the

CROWN PRINCE AGAIN IN THE LIMELIGHT AMONG ALARMISTS

Berlin, July 16.—Crown Prince William is again in the limelight and once more among the alarmists. He is recommending that all Germans read a recently published pamphlet predicting a great European war. The pamphlet, entitled "Germania's fated hour," was written by Col. Frobenius. He asserted that the French and Russian armaments are equivalent to preparation for war next spring and urged Germany and her allies to be ready for it. The crown prince telegraphed to Berlin that he has read "this excellent pamphlet" with the greatest interest and wishes it to have the widest circulation. "The Vorwarts" prints a letter from a member of the Reichstag, asserting that the government is drawing up a bill asking for more than $100,000,000 for strategic purposes, especially military railways and stock.

Leipzig correspondent of the Almanach called Lahn. Paul Cassagne challenged Lahn, because he did not leave the country in 48 hours, as had been demanded by Austria. It is understood that the German embassy in Paris is prepared to uphold what it conceives to be the rights of German correspondents. Lahn has appointed the French deputy, Antoine de Monzie, as his second. They will meet the second of Paul Cassagne today.

LETTER TO PROVE PREMEDIATION IN THE CHALLAUX CASE

Paris, July 16.—In view of the fact that the struggle between the defence and the prosecution in the trial of Mme. Challaux for the killing of M. Calmette, editor of the Figaro, which begins Monday, will center in the question of premeditation, the Figaro publishes this morning the text of a letter left by Mme. Challaux for her husband on the afternoon of the day of the shooting. The Figaro declares that this letter proves premeditation beyond doubt. It is dated March 18 and runs as follows: "My beloved husband—When I told you this morning of my interview with the president, who informed me that we have in France a law to protect us against the calumnies of the press, you said to me that one of these days you would smash the face of the ignominious Calmette. I realized that your decision was irrevocable. My resolve was then made that I should do this. France and the republic need you. I will do the deed."

If this letter reaches you, you will know that I have done or tried to do justice. I forgive me but my patience is exhausted. I love and embrace you to the depths of my heart. (Signed) "Your Henriette."

SUFFRAGETTES' VICIOUS ATTACK ON HON. T. M. WOOD

Lashed Him Across Chest with Whip, Calling Him "Scottish Pig."

BUTLER ARRIVES JUST IN TIME TO RESCUE

Magistrate Sends Them to Jail for Two Weeks and They Go Kicking.

London, July 14.—It required half a dozen policemen for the removal from the Marlborough street police court yesterday of two kicking, clawing, screaming militant suffragettes, who came in the day had attempted to horsewhip the Right Hon. Thomas McKinnon Wood, secretary of state for Scotland, only for the timely intervention of his stalwart butler it is very probable that the secretary would have been soundly thrashed. He was just leaving his residence when a woman rushed up, brandishing a whip, and shouting, "You Scottish pig, if you don't stop the forcible feeding of women we shall smother you."

The militant lashed him across the chest, but before she could deliver a second cut, the butler, who was standing on the step, seized her and threw her sprawling to the ground, leaving him free to tackle the second woman, who was shouting: "Let me get at the Scottish pig!"

She made a rush with her whip at the secretary for Scotland and was still struggling in the butler's grip when the police arrived and bundled both women to the police station, where they were searched. On one of them was found a decomposed egg, labeled "refreshing fruit."

In the court the women gave their names as Jeaneffe Wallace and Lillian Wallace. They were released on bail each, but refused to pay and were sent to jail for 14 days.

FOR THE HOUSEKEEPER

A good sauce for stewed fruit is made by boiling in ounce of very fine sugar in one pint of milk till it thickens, the grains almost disappear.

To keep your garbage can sweet, put a folded newspaper in the bottom of the can every time it is emptied.

A good mixture to set color in wash fabrics is one teaspoonful of turpentine and a handful of corn in half a pint of water.

Some cooks always add a piece of bread crust tied in cheesecloth to the kettle when cabbage or cauliflower is boiling. This way, they will absorb the odor.

If when making boiled frosting one has cooked the sugar and water too long, and it grins, a teaspoonful of butter added will make it creamy and smooth, when beaten.

Often in hot weather the batch of bread or rolls has risen before the time planned to bake them. Place them in the refrigerator and let the rising process subside, yet the dough will not sour. When ready to bake, take out of the refrigerator and bake in the oven.

If several weeks or months are to elapse when the food chopper is not in use, run a piece of stout through it, before putting it away, then there will be no danger of its rusting.

If mustard is mixed with milk it will hasten the food decomposition.

When making potatoes always use boiling, not cold milk. Boiled milk and the potatoes will be light and fluffy.

A tablespoonful of water may be allowed for each egg used in crumbling croquettes or fish.

There is of better way to scrub a lawn when the chopper is not in use, than to run a piece of stout through it, before putting it away, then there will be no danger of its rusting.

SARCASTIC TOUCH ABOUT THE HAT PIN

Writer Suggests Settling Aside Portion of Highway for Dangerous Element

A great amount of learning has been displayed in commenting on the decision of an English judge who recently held that an action would lie against a woman wearing a dangerous unbalanced hat because the injury caused thereby, on common-law principles. The maxim, "sic utere tuo ut alienum non laedas," or "use thine own as thou wouldst use the license and invite doctrines, has been sought to be applied thereto. In connection with the first maxim the case has been held that the act of wearing a hat, and perhaps rightfully so. This has brought forward a suggestion that a warning sign should be displayed to avoid liability.

Urges More Attention to Food

Doctor tells mothers to watch child's luncheon:

That mothers do not give enough attention to the food their children eat for school luncheon, was emphasized by Dr. John Lovett Moore, of the Harvard medical clinic, in a recent address.

In part, Dr. Moore said: "It is a curious fact that many mothers who are careful about what their children eat in their own homes, send them to school with a lunch composed of cookies and doughnuts and other sweets, apparently thinking that a child's lunch should consist of bread and butter or a meat sandwich.

"Never use compulsion to make children eat. Children can be made to eat new things by sufficient patience and persuasion are exercised.

"Parents should be careful, not to say that their child will like any food for a child. They should merely refrain from eating it and say nothing.

"A child that has been properly brought up and that has never given a taste of anything, except its own food, does not expect to have anything else to eat, and will therefore never ask for other food.

"A child who sits at the family table too early. In any case, a child should have its supper alone.

"If a child loses its appetite, it must not be tempted, as the term is never allow a child to wash his face with soap and water or milk. Every mother should see that her child has sufficient water between meals.
